

Conversant Massage Chair

Imagine how funny it would be to sit in a chair after a long hard day, and the chair asks you for a massage. Well, that's what Conversant Massage Chair is.

Upon sitting the chair asks you to give it a massage. If you do not begin soon, he begins to get annoyed at you until you give in. As you massage, the chair tells you endless tales of his life, work, relationships, but only for as long as you massage his arms.

The chair itself has had an interesting life. Once met with the Rolling Stones, has strong admiration for his boss, and detests dogs.... To find out more yourself, just have a seat!
